URMC Inter-departmental activities and responsibilities and evidence of expertise

- Co-Chair, URM Bridges Committee for Community Engagement in Education. BRIDGES is an interdisciplinary group of faculty and staff from across the University and across levels of education, from undergraduate through residency, dedicated to community-engaged active learning. BRIDGES has met monthly under my leadership since since 2012 with its vision of preparing students, faculty, and staff to work effectively in support of community-driven initiatives that benefit both the community and the University. The Community Engagement Symposium has been created and delivered annually for five years to an interdisciplinary audience of over 120 students each year led by this group.
- Leadership in community health education within the UR medical school. I am the Director of the Community Health Improvement Course, a required course for all fourth year medical students, since 2013. Drawing from expertise throughout the University and hospital, I redesigned the curriculum to be innovative and engaging for the millennial learner incorporating experiential learning, flipped classroom, community surveillance and participation in community health improvement projects with long-term partners. I also created and direct a second year Humanities course "Health Beyond Healthcare". I developed problem-based learning cases around issues in community health and lecture during the Mastering Medical Information course and the Sex to Selection clerkship. I am a co-Director of the Health Systems theme to maintain curriculum that meets competencies for population health.
- Oversight of longitudinal learning in community health for medical students. I developed and manage the Medical Degree with Distinction for Community Health process for medical students interested in substantial contributions to community health improvement. In addition, I oversee the Andrus summer fellowship for student work in community health. In 2017 I secured an alumni gift to support medical student learning of community health including an additional summer fellowship and a lecture series that I am creating for first year medical students.
- Expertise in Community-Engaged interventions and research. In addition to lecturing on community engagement in experiential learning both locally and nationally, I have completed a successful community based participatory planning process for intervention in the Edgerton community. I am creating a MOOC (massive online open curriculum) entitled "Community Engaged Research and Intervention" through the CTSI.

Original Curricula (available upon request):

- Community Health Improvement Course
- Community Engagement Symposium
- Community Engaged Research and Intervention MOOC

- II. Substantial contributions to the URM community and clinical mission and administrative requirements by leading the Community Health Needs Assessment and resultant Implementation strategy efforts, while organizing and reporting on community health benefits for the institution.

2016	Community Health Improvement Award from Hospital Association of New York presented to University of Rochester Medical Center – project under my leadership
2018	Monroe County Community Health Improvement Plan was selected as a top ten best practice nationally by the RWJF Community Health Improvement Process Evaluation Advisory Group

URMC Inter-departmental activities and responsibilities and evidence of expertise

- Leadership in hospital community health planning. I have organized and managed the Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA) and Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) for Monroe County since 2013. The Monroe County planning process is a collaborative effort between four hospitals, the Monroe County Department of Public Health and several community agencies. The collaborative CHNA/CHIP documents are voted on by the Board, and are required for reporting on the hospitals' (including Strong and Highland) IRS 990 Schedule H.
- Leadership in hospital community benefits reporting. I oversee the reporting process for all departments and centers within UR Strong for IRS tax reporting. I maintain a database of community benefits activity and attempt to link this reporting with the community health planning for Monroe County. I am the Chair of the Hospital Association of New York's Task Force for Community Benefits, and on a national RWJF Community Health Improvement Process evaluation Advisory Team.
- I am the project lead for AAMC Building a Systems Approach to Community Health and Health Equity for Academic Medical Centers. URMC was selected as one of eight teams nationally to build on the Monroe County CHIP as an institution. The project focuses on building synergy and collaboration between the missions of the hospital – research, clinical, community and education work – around a commonly identify health issue, ours being unplanned pregnancy. Other members of the team include the COO of Strong, the Director of the Center for Community Health and Prevention, the Commissioner of the Health Department, the Senior Associate Dean of Graduate Medical Education, the Chair of the Public Health Sciences Department and the Senior Associate Dean of Inclusion and Culture Development.
- Implementation of community health planning initiatives. I have developed and managed system wide initiatives such as screening for social determinants of health across the institution including linking to community resources. I have organized several synergy meetings to bring partners together across the institution around topics including social determinant screening, opioid misuse, and unplanned pregnancy.
